CALIFORNIA SEXUAL ASSAULT INVESTIGATORS ASSOCIATION

President's Message

Dear CSAIA Members,

The 2013 Fall Training Conference has come and gone. I want to personally thank all who attended the 2013 Fall Training Conference in Sacramento, California. I also want to thank the attendees for the thorough evaluations submitted, which were overwhelmingly positive. These evaluations also provided numerous suggestions on future topics and instructors. This feedback is extremely useful to the CSAIA Board, guiding the Board as we strive to provide the highest quality training.

The Board is hard at work planning our next training, 2014 Spring Training. This training will be held at the Cliff's Resort in Shell Beach. This has been a coveted location for CSAIA training for over 30 years. Because of this, the Board has decided to extend Spring Training to 3 ½ days, Tuesday through Friday, March 11-14, 2014. Save the date, mark your calendars and submit your training requests as we hope to see you in Shell Beach. As always, members are welcome to enjoy this prestigious resort through the weekend following training.

I would also like to encourage members to visit www.csaia.org frequently for case law updates, training updates, contacting other CSAIA members and to send group e-mails seeking information. Our goal is to create a web site that is useful to CSAIA members to facilitate the exchange of information. To each of our members, thank you for all you do to help victims of sexual assault and child abuse.

2013 Fall Training Sacramento, CA

The Hilton in Sacramento was the site for the California Sexual Assault Investigators Association 2013 Fall Training. The training was a total success with a variety of expert instructors educating on topics such as: Human Trafficking, Suggestibility of Children, Utilizing the Medical Forms as an Investigative Tool, Cell Phone Investigations and ending with "Getting to the One Word Verdict" by Supervising Deputy District Attorney Charles Gillingham. Overall, the wonderful venue, delicious food and team building between agencies from all over the state proved to be beneficial to all who were in attendance. The week was complimented by a presentation by the California Peace Officers Standards and Training (POST), and a vendor booth California Casualty, insuring law enforcement personnel for years. The 2014 Spring Training will be held at the infamous Shell Beach March 11-14, 2014 and is projected to sell out so look for our announcement for registration beginning in December.

Updating the 923 Form and Evidence to Collect in Adult Sexual Assault Cases

By Malinda Wheeler, March 28, 2013

It has been ten years since the last formal update to the statewide mandated form for use by medical professionals conducting sexual assault evidentiary examinations. On August 2 and 3, 2012, representatives from ten SART examiner programs and 12 crime labs across the state met to discuss the first round of revisions. Revisions discussed were from the adult/adolescent 923 form only and evidentiary collection procedures. The meeting was co-sponsored by the California Clinical Forensic Medical Training Center (CCFMTTC) and the Department of Justice, Bureau of Forensic Services.

Several meetings and a progression through formal approval process still need to be completed, but it was agreed to publish a preliminary list of recommended changes for any discussion or feedback. Please send comments to Marilyn Peterson [marilyn.peterson@ccfmtc.org]. Here are just a few of the recommendations that are up and coming:

Extend collection time for entire exam from 3 days to 5 days, maybe even 7 days

1. Extend oral sample collection time from 12 hours to 24 hours
2. Delete all standard hair reference samples for victims and suspects
3. Delete saliva reference - use buccal swab collection and/or blood cards to establish victim's DNA profile
4. Delete all control samples
5. Routinely collect 2 cervical swabs on all victims
6. Eliminate vaginal wet mount slides
7. Water soluble lubricant acceptable for exam (plain or containing lidocaine -does not affect DNA recovery)
8. Eliminate oral and anal dry mount slide preparation; use swabs only
9. Eliminate recommendation for oral rinse
10. Expand number of swabs collected from the victim's body in the search for assailant DNA.
 - a. These should be routine, if the victim history is incomplete:
 - (1) Collect 2 moistened swabs from perioral region
 - (2) Collect 2 moistened swabs from external genitalia (vulvar)
 - (3) Collect 2 moistened swabs from each side of the neck region.
 - (4) Collect 2 moistened swabs from the left breast
 - (5) Collect 2 moistened swabs from the right breast
 - b. Collect from the victim's body, if indicated by specific history of contact:
 - (1) If history of touch to external genital region, collect 2 moistened swabs.
 - (2) If history of assailant touching/licking abdomen, collect 2 moistened swabs.
 - (3) If history of masturbation of suspect, collect 2 swabs from each palm.
 - (4) If history of manual strangulation and not showered, collect 2 neck swabs.

DCA – a jury can unanimously agree that a defendant committed repeated indistinguishable acts of child molestation.

People v. Fernandez (2013) 216 Cal.App.4th 540, a jury can unanimously agree that a defendant committed repeated indistinguishable acts of child molestation. Here, a jury convicted defendant of child molestation counts involving indistinguishable acts over a period of years. A jury is usually required to agree as to the acts constituting each offense [CALCRIM 3500]. But this jury was allowed to simply agree that defendant committed all the acts alleged to have occurred [CALCRIM 3501]. DCA affirmed; the unanimity rule is refined in some child sexual molestation cases. Although a jury may not be able to distinguish between the various alleged acts, it is capable of unanimously agreeing that they took place in the number and manner described. The modified instruction should be given "if it is not reasonably likely that jurors will disagree as to which particular act the defendant committed and the only issue is whether they were committed at all"

DCA – a defendant convicted of committing a lewd and lascivious act on a child can now be relieved of the duty to register as a sex offender.

- (1) People v. Tirey (DCA) a defendant convicted of committing a lewd and lascivious act on a child can now be relieved of the duty to register as a sex offender. Here, defendant was convicted in 1998 of committing six lewd and lascivious acts on two girls under 14 years of age. In 2013, a trial court denied defendant's petition for a certificate of rehabilitation, which generally relieves defendants of any further duty to register as a sex offender unless the underlying offense is specifically excluded. DCA reversed; under the current statutory scheme, defendants who commit lewd acts against children under 14 years of age are excluded from obtaining relief from lifetime sex offender registration while defendants who commit sexual acts against children 10 years of age or younger are not excluded. Thus, the statutory scheme violates the equal protection clause because there is no rational basis for the unequal protection of similarly situated defendants.

"[W]e observe the Legislature may wish to consider amending section 4852.01\(d\) and section 290.5\(a\)\(2\), to treat section 288\(a\) offenders and section 288.7 offenders equally for these purposes, and to ensure the overall certificate of rehabilitation and relief from sex offender registration scheme reflects the public policy objectives it was intended to accomplish."
